How to become A IRCOp On WorldUsers ?

It's a Question every user ask it

Becoming an IRCOp is a fairly difficult process.

Admins ask people that they feel are trustworthy and can take care of the server or network, making sure it stays in tip-top shape.

Most people recommend that you help in a help channel as a first step to "operdom". This is not true. Helping in help channels will NOT guarantee you that you will be considered for an IRCOp position. In fact, recognized "oper wannabes" are disregarded, both by the help channels and by admins & team

IRC Operators have three duties in descending order of importance:

- * Helping their admin run and maintain their server.
- * Helping their admin with running and maintaining the network as requested by the network.
- * Helping the users of the network with problems.

This third duty is done primarily in a oper's "free time" if they choose, so training and experience as a helper is not a major need.

Oper's Are usually picked Randomly So we don't focus on which country he/she are in .

We don't Really care for the Region Of He/She we Care that she/he here Respect all Regions.

Being Oper Are Voluntary Work.

Don't Ask For o-line Cause you will not Have it

Good Luck.

WorldUsers Staff.
